CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

Parents of all those under the age of 18 taking part in the Festival have been sent a copy of the Festival Child Protection Policy. If you wish to see a copy please ask one of the officials.

The Policy is reviewed regularly and it is revised and enhancing it as necessary. In doing this they will look to the British & International Federation of Festivals for support and that body, in turn, will look to other agencies for good practice, most notably the NSPCC and Arts Council of England policy guidelines.

OUR ADJUDICATORS

Margaret Smith was born and brought up in Skipton and was an enthusiastic participant in local festivals from a very early age. She studied piano, initially with Fanny Waterman and then at the Royal Academy of Music, with the violin as an additional first study.

Until her retirement, she spent many years in musical education with both singers and instrumentalists, having been Director of Music for 20 years at one of the most highly regarded independent girls' schools in Yorkshire. Since her retirement from full-time work she has revived her private piano practice, teaching to advanced level.

Margaret is keenly interested in vocal music, choral work in particular, and is founder-conductor of the Chippendale Singers, a chamber choir with a wide-ranging repertoire, currently enjoying success in the Yorkshire area. She has had associations with many societies and churches as a conductor of oratorio, cantatas and concert versions of opera, working with both adults and children.

Her enthusiasm for the Festival movement and all that it stands for, has resulted in an ever-increasing number of invitations to adjudicate at Festivals throughout Britain. She has recently participated on a panel of three adjudicators, at the finals of the prodigious Derby Arts Festival Centenary Competition.

In addition to this active musical life she enjoys walking, reading, concert and theatre-going and equestrian activities.

Margaret is an adjudicating member of the British & International Federation of Festivals and is delighted to be visiting Cottingham again.

Margaret Venables had been entering festivals from the age of seven when, at seventeen, she gained a place at the Royal Academy of Music, with Piano and Organ as her first study, and the 'cello as her second instrument.

During a varied teaching career following her Conservatory training, she became Head of Music at Danum Grammar School, later moving into a senior position in pastoral work within the school. Her out of school interests included broadcasting with William Appleby's Singing Together whose choir also sang evensong in Ely cathedral during annual cathedral choir holidays.

Margaret travelled widely in Europe and America conducting the Scout and Guide Symphony Orchestra and broadcast with them on television in England, part of her duties as Music Consultant for the Girl Guide movement. In this capacity she composed for and conducted Scout and Guide choirs for many years in Westminster Abbey, at the annual Thinking Day service, and led annual Guide carol singing in an invariably freezing Trafalgar Square.

Academically, she was a member of various national committees of the Schools Council for nine years and also the Northern Universities Music Examinations Committee. In common with only a few other adjudicators of many years' experience, Margaret also chairs a Music and Drama Festival in her local area, and she was extremely proud to have been elected as the first woman Chairman in the Federations history at the 2005 Conference. In this capacity she continues to head the Board of Trustees.

Our programme this year has been sponsored by the Cottingham Parish Council to whom we offer our thanks.

The name Cottingham derives from “Cotta’s hamlet”, Cott being the name of the tribal chief. In the 11th century Cottingham was owned by Gamel, in the time of Edward the Confessor.

Cottingham is a picturesque village with adequate facilities for most needs. It has its own, thriving, compact shopping centre along with medical facilities, churches and schools. It also contains a variety of eating establishments and public houses. If you are a visitor to Cottingham we hope you have time to enjoy some of the things it offers. If you need any help to find your way round please ask one of the stewards who will do their best to help.

Cottingham has made a name for itself with two important events.

The 6th annual Cottingham Day on 3rd July 2010

The 34th annual Switch-on of the Christmas Lights on 29th Nov 2010

The Parish Council is setting up a new website which is at
